Arsonist Closes School

Highwy Patrol reported fire damage estimated at $50,000 at the Poplar Bluff High School administration building Sunday at 11:30 a.m.

The fire apparently started Saturday night as a clock was stopped in the building at 10:10 p.m., the patrol said.

The patrol said the fire went out by itself. There was considerable damage to a teachers lounge, teachers workroom, and furnace room. There was some damage to the library and smoke damage to the entire building of the senior high school complex.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a fire bomb or set with a form of highly flamable material.

CONFUSION COMPOUNDED

For as long as we can remember, people called "conservatives" have, in general, warned against Federal financing of State and local projects. Reason: Federal More and more Federal power and control means less and less local independence; so the argument has gone.

For their pains, "conservatives" have been labeled reactionaries, anti-progressive, and the Lord knows what.

It is altoghether confusing, therefore, to note that the ultra- left, "liberal" Washington Post syndicated a feature article to the press of the nation, complaining that federal appropriations for education carries the stipulation that universities must cut off federal funds from students who violate the law.

The Washington Post feature article, bylined by D. J. R. Bruckner, complains that the rules "turn university administrators into police agents for the federal application of such a principle," reads the thoroughly conservative argument in the Washington Post.

"What is important about these laws," continues the Post feature, "is that they tie federal funds to federally defined disciplinary rules.

All of which leads us to wonder where the Post has been all these years; years during which so- called Conservatives warned that federal aid to local schools would be followed by federal manipulation and control? To compound the confusion, the Post has not, to our knowledge, complained when federal administrators from A PROTECTIONIST WIND followed the federal dollars into the public school system submerged in American politics. #### SHOCKING ARROGANCE

A new high in official arrogance came to light when sharp eyes of news reporters and commentators spotted a provision in a new law levying an excise tax on airline fares and forbidding airlines or travel agencies from showing the tax on tickets. The law also dictated a $100 fine for any airline employee or travel agency telling a customer of the tax. This is indeed shocking behavior from the same holider- than- thou legislative body that has made such a crusade out of truth- in lending, truth - in- packaging and all the other "truth" bills we have heard about in recent years. Not only did a majority of congressmen seek to hide the truth, but they acted as well to muzzle the exercise of free speech. Game No. 2 will come off Thursday night and will send the Pros against the talented Kentucky Colonels, Coach Gene Rhodes' Bluegrass bombers feature rookie Dan Issel and veteran Louie Dampier, a pair of former University of Kentucky All-Americans.

The opening of the 1970-71 season will climax one of sportsdom's fastest and most involved periods of pre-season preparation. The Pros became a reality Aug. 31 and in a whirlwind of activities that ensued the team and the city of Memphis were made ready for each other.

Last Tuesday, the Pros' surpassed the top number of season tickets sold in New Orleans during the Bucs' three years downriver with the selling of the 483rd season package. The count continues.

The day before that, Memphis Radio WREC announced an agreement with play-by-play account of all 84 games with veteran announcer Dick Pamler at the mike.

Meanwhile, Babe McCarthy, busily wearing the hats of coach and general manager, has slowly but surely whipped the Memphis Pros into readiness. A pair of holdouts delayed preparations for the exhibition season, resulting in what McCarthy termed 'sub par performances.

An injury to guard James Jons and other assorted ailments hampered the Pros' progress, but McCarthy feels that his troops have "come along very well and despite our unimpressive exhibition record (1-5 in the

Lane, Big Red No. 1

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Nothing has come easy for MacArthur Lane, the line busting running back of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The 220-pound Lane scored four touchdowns Sunday as the Cardinals beat the Philadelphia Eagles 35-20 and took undisputed possession of first place in the Eastern Division of the National Conference of the National Football League.

St. Louis erupted for 28 points in the second period after falling behind 10-0 against the winless Eagles. The Cardinals now are 4-1 and the Eagles 0-5. The 6-foot-4 Lane scored four The 6-foot-4 Lane scored four touchdowns, three of them in Someone asked Lane why it took him so long to get to the NFL. He's 28 years old and only in his third season of pro ball.

'There were no opportunities for me to go to college after I graduated from high school," Lane explained. "I worked for two years as a machinist apprentice before I decided to go to junior college in Oakland.

After junior college he received a scholarship to Utah State. It wasn't until the seventh game of his junior year at Utah State that he was shifted from defense to running back.

He finished the junior year with 466 yards in 46 carries, and as a senior was the nation's No. 2 rusher. He was the Cardinals top draft choice after the 1968

Lane played behind Johnny Roland his first season with St. Louis. 'John had a real good year and I didn't get to play too often," he said. 'Last year I had knee trouble and a hand injury.

Lane gained 125 yards in 15 carries against the Eagles, including a 75-yard run in the third period. He now has 494 yards on 81 carries, tops in the NFL, Washington's Larry Brown, who plays tonight, led last week with 399 yards.

want to make All-Pro, that's my goal this year," says Lane. "I just hope I can stay healthy.

Louis coach Charley Winner isn't surprised by Lane's performance.

"I thought he would come into his own last season," said Winner after the Eagles game. "But he got injured and things never got going. He has a great attitude and is a hard worker. He does everything well, running inside, blocking and pass

The Eagles had nothing but compliments for Lane. 'Lane is a smart natural runner,' said defensive end Ernie Calloway. 'He's got natural instincts. He knows how to make a defender commit himself, and then sets up his blockers."

The Eagles jumped to a 10-0 lead in the first period on a 57yard TD run by Tom Woodeshick and a 35-yard field goal by Mark Moseley.

They look good and provide an excellent source of fall feed on Missouri farms, However, in some situations, precautions should be taken."

Those are comments of Howell Wheaton, University of Missouri- Columbia Extension forage specialist, speaking about sorghum- sudan and sudan grass pastures

Wheaton points out that fall rains have revived many of these temporary pastures.

However, he warns that the short new growth may contain a poisonous substance called dhurrin. Cattle and sheep convert that substance to prussic

Prussic acid potential is always highest in young immature plants, says the forage specialist. "Therefore, do not graze before growth exceeds 15 inches in height," he advises.

According to Wheaton, sudan- grass or the crosses that have been stunted by frost, freezing, or near freezing temperatures may also potentially dangerous.

It is safe to feed these grasse after the stubble is dead and thoroughly cured. They are also safe when preserved as hay or silage after the ensiling process is complete. Sorghum- sudan hybrids and

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PRESCRIPTION: "Prevention... worth an ounce of cure

Over one million accidental poisonings occur yearly. A frightening number, over one third, happen to children under five. The National Safety Council Report lists over 1800 fatalities from accidental poisonings in a recent year .. practically 2% of all accidental deaths in the home. By observing a few simple rules you can prevent one of these tragedies from happening to your family. Prevent accidental poisonings by keeping poisons out of the reach of children and clearly label all poisonous substances. If poisoning does occur, call a doctor immediately, then administer emergency treatment. If you're unsure of the proper firstaid-for-poisoning procedure, now is a good time to learn it. Pick up a free Poison Antidote Chart at our Rexall Pharmacy today. Help reduce the unnecessarily high toll of tragic deaths due to accidental poisoning!

Highwy Patrol reported fire damage estimated at $50,000 at the Poplar Bluff High School administration building Sunday at 11:30 a.m.

The fire apparently started Saturday night as a clock was stopped in the building at 10:10 p.m., the patrol said.

The patrol said the fire went by itself. There was considerable damage to teachers lounge, teachers workroom, and furnace room. There was some damage to the library and smoke damage to the entire building of the senior high school complex.

A new high in official arrogance came to light when ultra- left, "liberal" Washington Post syndicated a feature the sharp eyes of news reporters and commentators spotted a provision in a new law levying an excise tax on airline fares and forbidding airlines or travel agencies from showing the tax on tickets. The law also dictated a $100 fine for any airline employee or travel agency telling a customer of the tax. This is indeed shocking behavior from the same holider- than- thou legislative body that has made such a crusade out of truth- in lending, truth - in- packaging and all the other "truth" bills we have heard about in recent years. Not only did a majority of congressmen seek to hide the truth, but they acted as well to muzzle the exercise of free speech. Game No. 2 will come off Thursday night and will send the Pros against the talented Kentucky Colonels, Coach Gene Rhodes' Bluegrass bombers feature rookie Dan Issel and veteran Louie Dampier, a pair of former University of Kentucky All-Americans.

The opening of the 1970-71 season will climax one of sportsdom's fastest and most involved periods of pre-season preparation. The Pros became a reality Aug. 31 and in a whirlwind of activities that ensued the team and the city of Memphis were made ready for each other.

Last Tuesday, the Pros' surpassed the top number of season tickets sold in New Orleans during the Bucs' three years downriver with the selling of the 483rd season package. The count continues.

The day before that, Memphis Radio WREC announced an agreement with play-by-play account of all 84 ames with veteran announcer Dick Pamler at the mike.

Meanwhile, Babe McCarthy, busily wearing the hats of coach and general manager, has slowly but surely whipped the Memphis Pros into readiness. A pair of holdouts delayed preparations for the exhibition season, resulting in what McCarthy termed 'sub par performances.'
An injury to guard James Jons and other assorted ailments hampered the Pros' progress, but McCarthy feels that his troops have "come along very well and despite our unimpressive exhibition record (1-5 in the

Lane, Big Red No. 1

PHILADELPHIA (AP) Nothing has come easy for MacArthur Lane, the line busting running back of the St. Louis Cardinals

The 220-pound Lane scored four touchdowns Sunday as the Cardinals beat the Philadelphia Eagles 35-20 and took undisputed possession of first place in the Eastern Division of the National Conference of the National Football League.

St. Louis erupted for 28 points in the second period after falling behind 10-0 against the winless Eagles. The Cardinals now are 4-1 and the Eagles 0-5. The 6-foot-4 Lane scored four touchdowns, three of them in that big second period rally. Someone asked Lane why it took him so long to get to the NFL. He's 28 years old and only in his third season of pro ball. There were no opportunities for me to go to college after I graduated from high school," Lane explained.

'I worked for two years as a machinist apprentice before I decided to go to junior college in Oakland.

junior college he received a scholarship to Utah State. It wasn't until the seventh game of his junior year at Utah State that he was shifted from defense to running back.

He finished the junior year with 466 yards in 46 carries, and as a senior was the nation's No. 2 rusher. He was the Cardinals top draft choice after the 1968

Lane played behind Johnny Roland his first season with St. Louis. ''John had a real good year and I didn't get to play too often," he said. 'Last year I hac knee trouble and a hand injury."

Lane gained 125 yards in 15 carries against the Eagles, including a 75-yard run in the third period. He now has 494 yards on 81 carries, tops in the NFL, Washington's Larry Brown, who plays tonight, led last week with 399 yards.

"I want to make All-Pro, that's my goal this year," says Lane. 'I just hope I can stay healthy.

St. Louis coach Charley Winner isn't surprised by Lane's performance.

"I thought he would come into his own last season," said Winner after the Eagles game. 'But he got injured and things never got going. He has a great attitude and is a hard worker. He does everything well, running inside, blocking and pass catching.

The Eagles had nothing but compliments for Lane. 'Lane is a smart natural runner," said defensive end Ernie Calloway "He's got natural instincts. He knows how to make a defender commit himself, and then sets up his blockers." The Eagles jumped to a 10-0 lead in the first period on a 57yard TD run by Tom Woodeshick and a 35-yard field goal by Mark Moseley.

The agency would also be authorized to issue tax-exempt revenue bonds to finance its activites, which would cover the entire homebuilding process from preconstruction and land development to construction and permanent financing.

The second housing law provides for the safety of nomeowners as well facilitating the use of factorybuilt housing. It requires that such prefabricated or preformed houses or housing components be certified by the State according to certain specifications

Under this act, taken largely from a California law, if housing or housing parts received state certification, they would be deemed to comply with local housing ordinances. Provisions are made for local authorities to certify housing if their requirements are similar to the State's.

Those are comments of Howell Wheaton, University of Missouri- Columbia Extension forage specialist, speaking about sorghum- sudan and sudan grass pastures

Wheaton points out that fall rains have revived many of these temporary pastures.

However, he warns that the short new growth may contain a poisonous substance called dhurrin. Cattle and sheep convert that substance to prussic and

Prussic acid potential is always highest in young immature plants, says the forage specialist. "Therefore, do not graze before growth exceeds 15 inches in height," he advises.

According to Wheaton, sudan-grass or the crosses that have been stunted by frost, freezing, or near freezing temperatures may also be potentially dangerous.

It is safe to feed these grasses after the stubble is dead and thoroughly cured. They are also safe when preserved as hay or silage after the ensiling process is complete.

Sorghum- sudan hybrids and crosses have more potential for prussic acid poisoning than sudangrass.

Piper sudangrass has a particularly low dhurrin level andis less dangerous than other varieties. Pearl millet is free of prussic acid problems. It can be safely grazed under drouth or freezing conditions.

pasture. But compared to other forage crops, feed value is usually inferior, says Wheaton. Sudangrass hay is difficult to cure because of the heavy thick stem. Use of a crusher or crimper is almost a "must." Even after stems are crushed they dry slowly. Also, in the process a big share of the leaves are lost.

With most of the feed value in leaves, the remaining stemmy hay is almost always low in feeding quality.

U.S.WILL NEVER IMPEACH NIXON Art Buchwald in the Commercial Appeal

WASHINGTON - No one who has followed the events of the past two weeks can have anything but admiration for the political sagacity of Atty. Gen. John Mitchell.

Mitchell's astuteness as a king-maker goes back to Miami Beach Fla., where he engineered the nomination of Richard M. Nixon as the Republican candidate for president. But it did not end there. In one of the smokefilled rooms that you always read about, Mitchell, puffing on his pipe, discussed some of the problems Mr. Nixon would have to face if he were elected to the presidency.

overlook," Mitchell said, "is that the people might want to impeach you, Dick, at some time early in your term."
"I haven't even been elected

"One of the things we can't

"I haven't even been elected yet, and you're already talking about my impeachment." Mr. Nixon protested.

"We have to prepare for every contingency," Mitchell said. "Suppose you decide to widen the war in Indochina?"

"BUT I'VE promised to end the war in Vietnam and bring our boys home." "We know what you've promised, Dick. But you may wish at some stage to go into Cambodia or Laos." "Why that's ridiculous. Why should I do that?" Mr. Nixon should I do that?" Mr. Nixon asked.

"Perhaps to clean out the Communist sanctuaries once and

"But if I did that," Mr.
Nixon said, "they'd have to impeach me."

impeach me."
"Precisely what I said,"
Mitchell said.
"'I don't want to be

"I don't want to be impeached," Mr. Nixon cried. "Not after all the work I put in to get in the nomination."
"You don't have to Dick. We

"You don't have to Dick. We have to make it impossible for them to take your job away."
"How do you do that?"

"We have to select a vice president that the public will be so frightened of that they wouldn't dare impeach you."
"I never thought of that,"

"I never thought of that,"
Mr. Nixon admitted. "The best insurance a president could have would be to have someone standing in the wings that nobody could accept for the office. Who fits the

MITCHELL took out a list. "There's a guy from Maryland named Spiro Agnew. He sounds like some one who can really ruffle people's feathers. If we send him out to fund-raising dinners for a year and give him enough exposure, and let him say what he wants, no one in this country would dare impeach

As everyone knows, Mr. Nixon bought the idea, and last week when all the impeachment talk concerning President Nixon started, Atty. Gen. Mitchell was the smuggest man in Washington. He called up the President and chuckled:

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PRESCRIPTION: Prevention... worth an ounce of cure"

Over one million accidental poisonings occur yearly. A frightening number, over one third, happen to children under five. The National Safety Council Report lists over 1800 fatalities from accidental poisonings in a recent year

.. practically 2% of all accidental deaths in the home. By observing a few simple rules you can prevent one of these tragedies from happening to your family. Prevent accidental poisonings by keeping poisons out of the reach of children and clearly label all poisonous substances. If poisoning does occur, call a doctor immediately, then administer emergency treatment. If you're unsure of the proper firstaid-for-poisoning procedure, now is a good time to learn it. Pick up a free Poison Antidote Chart at our Rexall Pharmacy today. Help reduce the unnecessarily high toll of tragic deaths due to accidental poisoning!

That's The Law

Freddy's Chariot Doomed

By JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.
Pride goeth before destruction, except in the dictionary, and forlorn Freddy could certainly vouch for it. His joy of joys was his shinny new automobile. That is until the local sheriff flagged him down one nigh and ordered him to park his car across a public highway to form a road block. Instead of the desperado that the sheriff had hoped to trap, along came Herbie who demolished Freddy's pride and joy when, unable to stop in time, he crashed into poor Freddy's car.

And, if that wasn't enough to make Freddy sit down and cry, Herbie sued him for his injuries.

"The stupid guy parked his car right across the road," complained Herbie in court. "I'm just lucky I'm not playing a harp in some heavenly quartet.'

"I only did what I was told to do," was Freddy's tearful response. "After all, a sheriff is a sheriff. Ain't it bad enough I lost

Please leave us a loan.

We're asking you to leave us something Consider it a loan, if you like. No, we can't pay you back. But we can repay your kids. And their kids.

By giving them a world where two out of three cancer victims don't have to die. By giving them health. And life.

Because your loan helps us borrow time. Time to fight cancer. Time to beat it.

Just have your attorney add these words to your will: "Igive to the American Cancer Society, Inc.

__Division) the sum (or to its__ _dollars to be used for the general purposes of the Society."

Leave us what you will. Just don't leave us alone. Please.
